DETAILED ACTION

This is a response to the amendment filed 8/25/2005. Claims 1-19 are pending and are under examination.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1 and 9-11 remain rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sato (USP 6,885,222).

Figure 3 shows a flip flop circuit comprising a differential circuit coupled between a first voltage (VDD) and a common node (N2 of the attached figure 3 with this Office action), a first latch unit (4 transistors forms a two inverters cross-coupled to provide a complementary output signals SO and /SO) coupled between the common node and the first voltage (VDD and connected to the differential pair in parallel, comprising a first and a second coupled to the second terminals of the differential pair and respectively generate complementary latch signals (SO and SO/) according to the first and second input signals (DL and /DL), a signal amplification circuit (21a, 26a, 21b, 26b), a control signal (/PR) and a second latch unit (30) as called for in claims 1 and 9-11.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 8/25/2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that Sato's figure 3 shows the differential circuit (transistors coupled to receive DL and DL/) is in between a first voltage (VDD) and SO and it is not in between the first voltage and a common node as called for in claims 1 and 9-11 is not persuasive. Figure 3, attached to this Office action, clearly shows differential transistors receiving DL and DL/ is in between Vdd and a common node N1. Therefore, the rejection is deemed proper.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 2-8 and 12-16 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
5. Claims 17-19 are presently allowed.

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
